

Kandu's

MAGIC MARKER

Created by Jef Eaton

The Effect

The magician shows a magic marker and explains that it truly is a "magic marker" as it can draw any color.

He passes his hand over the marker and the lettering magically becomes rainbow colored. Now it will draw any color. He has a color named and takes a small pad and proceeds to draw something on the back. He turns it around and it says any color. "I was just joking, it really can draw colors. Name a color. (Let's say red is chosen.) The magic marker will now draw red." This time when it's turned around it says red on it.

"OK, OK, let's try some real magic. I'll draw a picture of something a magician uses". When the pad is turned around it has a picture of a top hat on it. The magician tears it off the pad and rolls it into a tube and uses everybody's help to yell the magic words and magically produces a silk handkerchief with a very cute bunny on it.

"See, it really was a "magic marker"!"

Comes Complete with

- Bunny silk with custom artwork
- 2 gimmicked drawing pads
- gimmicked magic marker
- extra labels for making new magic markers
- secret gimmick made by Vernet
- full instructions
- camera ready top hat artwork so you can get your
- local printer to make up more
- gimmicked drawing pads